The North Carolina School Counselor Association

Mission:

The North Carolina School Counselor Association (NCSCA) promotes excellence in the profession of school counseling and the development of all students.

Who are school counselors?

- School counselors are professionals who receive intense training in the area of counseling and working with students in the school setting.
- School counselors are the hub for the personal/social, academic, and career development of students.
- School counselors are professional experts who are capable of working towards systemic change that will directly impact individual student's academic success.
- School counselors recognize students as young people with feeling who have a right to their individual dignities.
- School counselors are not disciplinarians; however, they provide counseling to students before and/or after discipline in order to determine the causes of students' behavior leading to the disciplinary action.

School counselors assist teachers in integration the NC School Guidance Curriculum into the classroom instruction.

School Counselors' Roles:

- Assist students with personal/social, academic, and career development.
- Provide counseling to students in individual and group settings.
- Collaborate and consult with students, parents and school personnel regarding student needs.
- Plan and coordinate a school counseling program that reflects the American School Counseling Association (ASCA) National Model.
- Assist with the interpretation of appraisal results.

Coordinate ongoing systemic activities designed to assist students individually in establish personal goals and developing future plans.

If you are interested in ASCA National Model Training for you school and/or school district, please contact Renee Evans at evansrr@appstate.edu.

SCA states that although school counselors are team player who understand and share responsibilities...they cannot be fully effective when they are taken away from essential counseling tasks to perform non-counseling activities.

Benefits of Joining NCSCA:

- Advocates for school counselor's roles and responsibilities at the state level.
- Promotes credibility and respect for the school counseling profession.
- Sponsors one of the largest conferences in the state for school counselors.
- Members are able to vote for all elected Board positions.
- Sponsors annual legislative day with state legislatures.
- Distributes four newsletters annually and provides online information via website.
- Receives up-to-date information from NCDPI regarding state decisions about school counseling.
- Receives up-to-date information from NCSCA and ASCA.
- Provides discounted conference registration.
