

Crisis Response

No one expects crises. However, preparing for that day is a necessity. This section is dedicated to provide resources for school counselors to utilize in the event that a crisis affects their school community. The compilation of resources has been gathered from North Carolina school districts and the American School Counselor Association, ASCA. Feel free to modify the resources to meet the needs of your school setting.